Geospatial Media and Communications Launches Privilege Membership Program

Geospatial Media and Communications- a credible global geospatial media company has launched a new Privilege Membership program to honour its loyal customers.

Geospatial Media has received continuous support from the industry in its endeavors across the globe. To further continue and strengthen this professional relationship, the loyalty programme has been introduced wherein the members will earn reward points for becoming a part of the wide range of the company's products-Conferences, Magazine subscription, and Industry Reports. The members will be given a privilege card with a unique ID through which they could login on the membership portal to manage the points earned. This programme shall also entitle the members to redeem those points and avail privileges of their choice as part of the programme.

At the launch, Annu Negi, Chief Operating Officer and Senior Vice President, Outreach & Business Development, Geospatial Media and Communications said, "We are happy to launch the program as this is our way of extending gratitude towards our loyal associates and foster a relationship that creates value. This shall go a long way in establishing a long-term relationship with our customers across the globe."

About Geospatial Media and Communications: It is an internationally accredited organisation, having committed itself to serve stakeholders of geospatial community and work towards opening new era of industrialisation and productisation, while facilitating collaboration and demonstrating value and benefits of geospatial technology and information for governance, businesses and people.
